The Future of Orthopedics... NOW

Broadview Heights is the headquarters for Zimmer Biomet’s Surgical & Restorative Therapies business and home to our first ZBEdge™ Experience Learning Center.

Immerse yourself in cutting edge digital and robotic technologies and experience the data-enabled patient journey through the eyes of the care provider. The center explores the pre-, intra-, and post-operative environments powered by ZBEdge.

ZBEdge is dynamic intelligence, designed to enable SMARTER decision-making, FASTER and more efficient care and BETTER value and experiences.

ABOUT BROADVIEW HEIGHTS, OHIO

A suburb of the greater Cleveland area, and a stone’s throw south of the city proper, Broadview Heights rests at the nape of the Cuyahoga Valley National Park, a pristine rural landscape—and the only national park in Ohio—that stretches between Cleveland and Akron. It’s bound on three sides by scenic trails and other outdoor recreational spaces.

Zimmer Biomet’s presence in northeast Ohio goes back decades. As a complement to our manufacturing facility in Dover, we opened the Broadview Heights office in 2019 to house marketing and engineering for our Surgical and Restorative Therapies business, and as a robotic center of excellence. The office is conveniently located 20 minutes from both Cleveland Hopkins International Airport and Cleveland Clinic’s main campus.
