Introduction

With 90+ years of trusted leadership and proven expertise, Zimmer Biomet is positioned to deliver the highest quality solutions to patients and providers. We are dedicated to alleviating pain and improving the quality of life for people around the world.

The Zimmer Biomet Code of Business Conduct and Ethics (the Code) reflects our mission and guiding principles, and serves as the foundation for Zimmer Biomet policies and procedures.

The Code applies to Zimmer Biomet Holdings, Inc., its subsidiaries and affiliates, and all of its team members. (For purposes of the Code and other Zimmer Biomet compliance policies and procedures, team members are defined as all officers, directors and employees of Zimmer Biomet Holdings, Inc. and its subsidiaries and affiliates, as well as leased staff provided through temporary service agencies and independent contractors who are performing services for Zimmer Biomet. These people are collectively known as team members.)

Zimmer Biomet also expects its distributors, sales agents, joint venture partners, and other third-party agents and representatives to follow the Code when acting on its behalf or for the company's benefit. These people are collectively known as business partners.

It is important for all global team members and business partners to read, understand and follow the Code and applicable law.

The Importance of Asking Questions

If you are unsure whether a certain activity would comply with the Code, ask yourself:

“Would this activity reflect positively on Zimmer Biomet?”

“Would I be comfortable if this activity became publicly known?”

If the answer to either question is “no” or “I don’t know,” ask your manager or a representative from Compliance, Human Resources or Legal for guidance.

Team members or business partners who feel they have been subjected to retaliation should report the situation to Human Resources, Compliance or through the Speak Up Hotline.

Team members or business partners may bring questions or concerns to Zimmer Biomet's attention through one of the available channels. Team members or business partners should choose the method of reporting with which they are most comfortable.

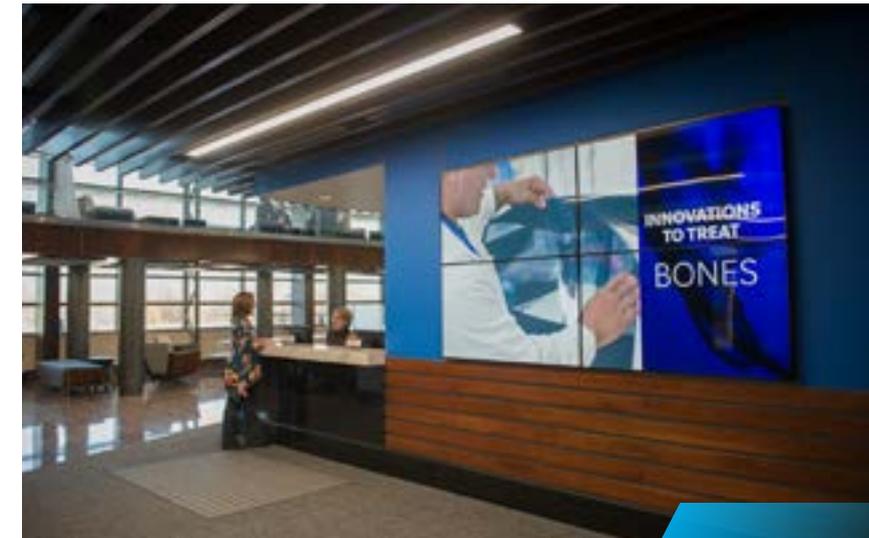

Simple questioning of a team member or business partner reporting a violation or cooperating in an investigation could be considered a form of retaliation, as it may make the team member or business partner feel they did something wrong by reporting or cooperating, or that a different reporting method should have been used instead.

Team members who retaliate against other team members or business partners for reporting known or suspected violations of our legal or ethical obligations or cooperating with investigations will be in violation of the Code and subject to disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal.

Conflicts

The Code provides guidance regarding applicable laws and regulations where Zimmer Biomet operates; however, such laws and regulations are often complex and vary from country to country. If a conflict exists between the Code and a law or regulation, the most restrictive requirement applies.

Team members who believe a conflict exists between the Code and a law or regulation should contact Human Resources or Compliance.

Waivers

It may be appropriate for a provision of the Code to be waived in a particular circumstance. Team members seeking a waiver must speak to their manager or supervisor, who will then contact Compliance. Unless preapproved in writing by the Global Chief Compliance Officer, all provisions of this Code apply.

Waivers of the Code for executive officers or Zimmer Biomet Board of Directors may only be made by the Board of Directors and will be disclosed promptly according to the applicable requirements of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

Zimmer Biomet reserves the right to periodically review the Code to determine if revisions are appropriate and to make the necessary revisions.
